

Author Daniel W. Evans

Like a raindrop you are part of something bigger. You make a difference.

Nothing is Too Small

Great things come from small beginnings. Ask most business owners and ministry founders what they think. Besides, the appreciation and commitment level is not as high without the growing pains. Never allow your mind to limit you to thoughts of what I do is too small and doesn't matter. There is way too much testimony of little that grew to much. Whether it is products, services or your name; your determination to meet your goals is what will take you to great heights. Even the earth is small compared to the vastness of the universe.

Making a Difference

Like a raindrop you are part of something bigger. Most think of rain as a large blanket of water drops. There is never much thought to a single drop of water. Each drop makes the rain what it is. Just like each of us when it comes to making a difference in the world. In the overall picture the chances of a single individual being thought of or remembered is slim. It takes an extraordinary individual to end up in the world's hall of fame. However, each of us makes a difference in the whole scheme of things. Always remember, you do make a difference. The responsibility of each of us is to make sure we make a positive impact.

More Than You Know

Narrow your focus from the world view to only your part of the world considering it makes no difference how small that may be. In this process you may notice something huge. You will begin to see the difference you make on a daily basis. If your influence is positive you will make a greater difference. Others can give witness to this fact. Make the right choice of influencing your part of the world positively. More than you know, you do make a difference and nothing you do is too small. Now, go and dance in the rain!